

Gaussbell has solar container power supply

Overview

Our 20 and 40 foot shipping containers are outfitted with roof mounted solar power on the outside, and on the inside, a rugged inverter with power ready battery bank. There are many ways to skin a cat, and even more ways to add solar power to a shipping container. In short, you can indeed run power to a container - either by extending a line from the grid or by turning the container itself into a mini power station using solar panels. Why power a shipping container?

There are many reasons to supply electricity to a container, especially in off-grid settings. But who exactly is this for?

Let's break it down: Remember the 2021 Texas power crisis?

While neighbors were burning IKEA furniture for warmth, GaussBell users were. RPS supplies the shipping container, solar, inverter, GEL or LiFePo battery bank, panel mounting, fully framed windows, insulation, door, exterior + interior paint, flooring, overhead lighting, mini-split + more customizations! RPS can customize the Barebones and Move-In Ready options to any design. Comprising solar panels, batteries, inverters, and monitoring systems, these containers offer a self-sustaining power solution.
