Overview

Typically, agency fees range from 3% to 8% of the total project cost, depending on the complexity and specific services rendered. They encompass pre-construction consultation, project management, and post-installation support, all vital for ensuring project success. Shared renewables, also known as community renewables, are an emerging procurement model allowing multiple customers to buy, lease, or subscribe to a portion of a shared green power system that is usually located away from their home or business. Learn how these changes impact developers, investors, and service providers in the renewable energy sector.
